Four thousand workmen are employed in the Williamsburgh refineries of the American Sugar Refining Company. It is reported by the workmen that each day since the hot spell began between thirty and fifty have been pros trated. A majority of the workmen are Poles and Hungarians, whose average pay is $32 a month. Many of them are married and have large families. They are known at the refineries by numbers, and work in day and night shifts of twelve hours each. This is the busy season, and all the refineries are worked to their full

The Havemeyer refineries, the largest in Wil-

At 6 o'clock last evening, when the day shift was relieved by the night shift, more than 100 of the men appeared to be exhaused upon reaching the street. Some of them staggered along the sidewalk, while others sat down on the curb to rest. There were fully 200 men at the South Third street entrance looking for jobs. NO RELIEF IN WASHINGTON.

Yesterday - The Temperature 98. WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 .- The weather prophets of the Weather Bureau had little encouragement to offer the people of this city to-night in the way of a diminution in the intense waveheat that has hung over this part of the country, and while a few clouds gathered in the sky this afternoon and sent the thermometer down four or five degrees below any point it has reached at corresponding hours since last Thursday, the predictions are for a continuation of the warm weather around here for a day or two longer.

The day opened with prospects of another twenty-four hours of the heat that has held sway here for five days, although the local weather prophets thought there might be a slight rainfall in the afternoon. The highest slight rainfall in the afternoon. The highest temperature was recorded at about 2 o'clock, when 93 degrees was reached, and from that hour the register continued to show slightly cooler weather. Dark clouds swept the heavens during the entire afternoon and prevented the sun's rays from being so effective as they have been for several days past. The num-ber of deaths from sunstroke and exhaustion have been comparatively few considering the intense heat. This is said by the local naysiintense heat. This is said by the local physicians to be due to the fact that Wazhington has a smaller laboring class than any city of its size in the Union. Yesterday six died from the effects of the heat and by to-morrow several more deaths of cases now at the hospitals are expected. The great gun factory here furnished two for the doctors this morning, when two men employed in making the heavy thirteeninch guns for battle ships fell over and one died in a few minutes. The other man is not expected to survive. George Engel, a German, was the first victim reported to-day. He was overcome on the street and removed to a hospital, and to-night the doctors report that he will recover. Robert Croff, a ten-year-old boy, was overcome this morning and removed to a hospital, where, under skilled medical treatment, he recovered. Joseph Leonard, a bookkeeper, was another victim who fell over from the heat. His condition to-night is critical.

over from the heat. His condition to-hight is critical.

There were several cases of exhaustion, but none was considered grave enough to warrant removal to the hospitals.

Many of the victims of yesterday's heat showed signs of improvement to-hight, and the greater number are expected to recover.

The Weather Bureau officials said this ovening that the conditions throughout the country are almost identical with those existing for several days past, but it was not expected that the heat after to-morrow would be so intense, and that gradually the warm wave would disappear.

A LITTLE COOLER IN ST. LOUIS.

Eleven Deaths from Sunstroke, However, Occur in Twenty Hours.

This change has not materially lessened the This change has not materially lessened the death rate, however, as a number were stricken during the previous three days beyond recovery. Even though the temperature should now fall to an average of 75°, there will, for some time, be deaths from the previous excessive heat. The local weather forecast for to-night and to-morrow is continued clear weather with lower temperature.

MARY E. LEASE SALUTES US.

KANSAS JOAN OF ARC PREACHES THE POPULIST CRUSADE.

Wore a Nice Gown, Had a Large House, Was Very Much Pleased, and Bossn't Seem to Have Left Anything for Mr. Bryan to Say-How the Looks and What She Said.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lease, the Kansas Joan of Arc, as the Pops delight to call her, was the principal speaker at a meeting held in the Cooper Union last night in the in terest of Bryan and free silver. She warned her hearers that she never spoke for less than two hours and s half. At last accounts she was drawing to a close. The audience was with her from start to finish. The same people who had been interrupting the other speakers and interjecting all sorts of suggestions earlier in the evening paid rapt attention to her. She got an ovation when she entered the hall, and it was repeated when she began to talk.

The meeting was advertised as a gathering of the plain people. It was called by a number of professional labor leaders, but William P. St. John, the martyred bank President, was its angel. The hall was well filled. In general appearance the crowd was the same that has beome familiar at the meetings of single tax and other come-outers in the last ten or fifteen rears. The presence of a considerable body of Socialists in one part of the hall and of Henry George men in another corner was made manifest at several points in the evening's proceedings. The Socialists had their innings when Mrs. Lease spoke of the hope that the mmediate future would see the realization of m the grand programme of socialism." Most of the men sat in their shirt sleeves and listened with open mouths to Mrs. Lease's oratorical pyrotechnics. Women were scattered through the audience, and one of them distinguished herself when Mrs. Lease was discussing the magnitude of the public debt of the United States by interlecting the suggesion in a thin feminine voice, just as Mrs. Lease was working up to a rhetorical climax, "Why not wipe out the debt?" Mrs. Lease's auditors laughed at this, but the woman was not daunted. Mrs. Lease went on talking about bonds, and again the voice was heard saying. "Wipe em off the slate." Kansas orator was not prepared to endorse this measure of repudiation, and went on without noticing the interruption.

Mrs. Lease, as usual, was stylishly dressed. She wore a black satin skirt and a waist of the fashionable new brown, with lots of ruffles and things. Her taste for dress is about the only feminine characteristic displayed by her. Her voice is strong and heavy like a man's, her manner of speaking and her gestures are disinctly masculine. Her choice of words and vigor of expression are masculine, too. Altogether, if one's eyes were closed, one would inagine he was listening to a man. Mrs. Lease spoke in part as follows:

"MR. CHAIRMAN AND FRIENDS: I accept this splendid greeting from this splendid audience as evidence that there is no Mason and Dixon's line between the East and the West. I accept it as evidence of the fact that the people of the East and the West are battling for a common cause against a common foe. Not since the bleeding years of civil strife have party prejudices and party affiliations been so completely forgotten and obedience to party leaders so generally refused as at the present time. The great heart of the nation is thoroughly aroused. Patriotism not patronage, principle not pelf, is the watchword of the hour The great heart of the nation beats responsive to honor and patriotism, and the nation is safe,

"We stand to-day at the beginning of one of those evolutionary periods that mark the time of reformation and readjustment. The problems that confront us are rendered vast, are rendered difficult not only because of anathy but because they are confronted under conditions that are absolutely new in the history of the race. 1ct to the patient student of history it must be apparent that the slow columns of men are moving onward and upward along the march of human progress. The people are about to take peaceable possession of their own. The new conditions are harbingers of the brighter new conditions are harbingers of the brighter day when the nation shall attain to higher ideals. It is a fundamental principle that new liberties cannot exist together with old tyrannies. The ideals of the Christian Church could not live under the Roman despotism, the ideals of Luther under the intolerance of the Government of his day; the ideals of the fathers of our country under the oppression of kinely rule. The ideals of freedom that to-day are stirring the bosoms of men, the hope of the realization of the grand principles of socialism [cheers] and the brotherhood of man, that to-day are permeating the world, cannot live under the old forms of government or under the slavery of either royalty or British gold.

"Our splendid system of government, so fair Our splendid system of government, so fair in time of prosperity, is confronted now prost that love their country. Such conditions as exist now are a stain used our institutions and accordition that condemns a millionaire to perfure his soul to escape an inheritance tax is shameful. The condition that permits the condition that permits the soul to escape an inheritance tax is shameful. The condition that permits the daughter of a rat trap peddier to pay two millions for an impoverished French Count, and at the conclusion of the bargain and saie-for it would be descration to call it marriage—for give a wedding break fast coeting $50,000, while thousands of American citizens go without any breakfast; a condition that makes it possible for the daughter of the Vanderbilts to pay ten millions for the cast-off, worn-out, disreputable rags of oid-world royalty: a condition while the woman accomplished with the world of the condition of the vanderbilts to pay ten millions for the cast-off, worn-out, disreputable rags of oid-world royalty: a condition while the woman accomplished of Rockefeller to found a college and for Whitney to buy his daughter a diamend thara is a disgrace to our civilization. (Cheers.)

"There was a time when it was our proud aboast that this nation was founded on odistinction of class or caste, but to-day we are not only selling our daughters to the tilted debauchess of the oid world, but we are setting aside the Constitution of the United States and establishing the single gold standard of our ancient and hereditary foe. There is to-day a determined, organized, and systematic of fluance to perpetuate the gold standard of our ancient and hereditary foe. There is to-day a determined, organized, and systematic affort is being made to mislead the people into fastening upon themselves the duble padiock of debislavery.

"Two great enemies have ever oppressed the people, the aristocracy of royalty and the aristocracy of royalty and the aristocracy of fold. The discovery and use of gundour of the people, the fallow men to debt.

world, that is, the wealth added through the efforts of labor.

"When we break up the money trust, as with the aid of God and the leadership of Bryan we will, we break up every other trust that has been living upon the products of labor." [Appliance and cheers.]

There were several other speeches, but they were of little account in comparison with Mrs. Lease's, and the audience was restive under the infliction. Louis Wolders of the International Cigarmakers' Union No. 144 presided, Joseph Buchanan of Typographical Union No. 6 made a speech in which he said:

which he said:

"It is just as much the duty of the man who labors to vote right as to strike right and to boycott right. Let us take the advice of the press which says we must not strike, but mas go to the ballot box for redress of our grievances."

labors to vote right as to strike right and to boycott right. Let us take the advice of the press which says we must not strike, but must go to the ballet box for redress of our grievances."

"And vote for the Socialist-Labor party." shouted a Socialist, and there were cries of "Yes" and "No" all over the ball.

William P. St. John made a short speech, in which he said he was looking with a microscope for a 53-cent dollar. He was willing to buy them at 99 cents apiece. In 1893 he had offered 101 cents for these despised silver dollars. The reason the greenbacks were at a discount during the war, he said, was because they were discriminated against by the Government that tasued them. That was about all the martyred bank President had to say, but it was received with great enthusiasm, for Mr. St. John is regarded as worth pushing along.

There was an agreement among all the speakers that no mention should be made of either Sewall or Watson, and it was strictly adhered to. Bryan's name was received with applause, and Cleveland, Whitney, Depew, and McKinley were roundly hissed.

A set of resolutions was road by the Secretary of the meeting and was adopted, but not unanimously. After the Chairman had announced its adoption a man in the rear of the hall called for a standing vote, but he was not recognized. The resolutions lauded the Chicaro and Populist Conventions, and declared that "the epithet Anarchist, which the agents of organized capitalism so profusely apply to us, we hold to be most appropriately applied to those who corrupt our City Councils and State Logislatures for the theft of public franchises; who use our Circuit Courts for the imprisonment, without trial by jury, of labor's representatives; who prevail upon our Supreme Court to overthrow a fast law taxing capital for a small share of the expenses of government, and who debauch our Prosident into forcing issues of bonds, upon flarrant terms, in violation slike of decency and of the plain intent of the law."

The resolutions also demanded Government c

HANNA IN CHICAGO

The Republican Chief Hears Reports of the Situation in the West.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.-Chairman Mark Hanna of the Republican National Committee reached Chicago over the Lake Shore road at 7:30 A. M. to-day. Mr. Hanna was late in reaching the city, but decidedly late in showing up at headquarters, thereby disappointing the throng that wanted to confide to him various plans for electing McKinley-which incidentally would put a few dollars in the planner's pockets. It was nearly I o'clock when Mr. Hanna walked into Secretary Dawes's room. He looked cool, despite the sweltering weather, and signified his readiness to plunge into business, S. B. Raymond and S. W. Alierton were waiting in the inner sanctum to see the chief. These have charge of the work of the Finance Committee and had a re-port to make. Perry Heath was also at hand to work of the Finance Committee and had a report to make. Perry Heath was also at hand to tell about the 40,000 copies of campaign books his department has distributed since it was established two weeks ago.

National Committeemen Durbin of Indiana, Payne of Wisconsin, Cummings of lowa, and Jameson of Himois were also waiting for a conference with the Chairman.

Mr. Hanna toos breakfast at the private residence of an intimate friend who met him at the station. Before calling at the headquarters he station. Before calling at the work of the Finance Committee. Mr. Hanna saw no visitors at headquarters to day. His offices on the second floor of the Auditorium were put in readiness this morning, but his stay here was brief.

Perry Heath returned to-day from Madison, Wis., where he was the guest of R. C. Spooner over Sanday. "There appears to be a most thorough revulsion of feeling in favor of sound money among the voters of both parties in Wisconsin, "said Mr. Heath. "From all I could learn Wisconsin, will prove to be one of the strongest sound money. money among the voters of both parties in Wisconsin," said Mr. Heath. "From all I could learn Wisconsin will prove to be one of the strongest sound-money States In the Union. There are many gold Swedes, Norwegians, and Danes in the State and they are for gold almost to a man. From reports made by conservative leaders of the Badger Sinte, McKindey and sound money will win with a larger majority than the Republican party ever yet obtained ther."

R. E. Mansfield of Indianapolis, Secretary of the Indiana Kepublican State Committee, came to Chicago to-day to order several million copies of tariff and sound-money pamphlets for distribution among the Republicans and Democrats of the Hoosier State.

"Both sides want literature telling about the great political questions of the hour." said Secretary Mausfield. "I believe that Indiana will roll up a good majority for McKinley and sound money. The sound-money Democrats will give us a great deal of help."

ASSESSED OFF THE TICKET.

Candidate Heck of Illinois Cannot Pay $5,000 and a Populist May Take His Place, CHICAGO, Aug. 10 .- "They have assessed me more than I am worth," W. F. Beck of Olney, Democratic candidate for State Auditor, is reported to have said to an acquaintance in the rotunds of the Sherman House the day the State Committee met and put the State candidates on the gridiron. The significance of the remark the gridiron. The significance of the remark was recalled to-day when it was announced with an air of authority from both Democratic and Populistic circles that Mr. Beck was preparing to retire from the ticket to give place to a Populist.

Just after he was nominated, Mr. Beck, who is editor of a Democratic newspaper, soid his plant for $2,500 and prepared himself for the campaign. He had heard that it was to be "a poon man's campaign." He came to Chicago expecting to pay an assessment of $1,500. Imagine his surprise when the amount was made known to him, for $5,000 was the sum requested, according to best advices. Some authoritics assert that the fusion plan was onder headway before the State Committee met, and that the large assessment bevied on Candidate Beck was made with "malice aforthought" to facilitate his crif from the ticket, for it is admitted that he cannot or will not pay so large an assessment. He is being consoled with a promise of a good appendment from Gov. Altgeld if he will retire to assist the fusion scheme.

It is understood that A. L. Maxwell of Craw-

It is understood that A. L. Maxwell of Crawford county, Chalman of the Populist State Committee, is likely to take Mr. Beck's place on the ticket if fusion goes through. The "geography" of the situation points to Maxwell or Taubeneck, both of whom hail from Mr. Beck's nart of the State.

ROBERIS'S BOOM FOR GOVERNOR. Erle's 89 Votes at His Back, dent George E. Matthews of the New York State McKinler League withdrew from the fight in the Thirty-third Congress district, and no opposition was offered to the election of the tickets put up by the organization.

The fight was made in the Thirty-second Congress district, where the anti-organization orces were marshalled by Excise Commissioner O'Grady. He appreciated that his campaign had been weakened by the capitulation of his allies in the Thirty-third district, but fought the fight to the end. He carried the Third Assembly district and left the result dountful in the First Assembly district. He wanted to defeat State Committeeman John R. Hazel, and for that purpose backed Reuben Getz. Hazel has a majority of the delegates,

The Tammany Hall General Committee of the Eighth Assembly District organized itself las night as the Martin Engel Association, with Mr Engel, the Tammany leader, as President, and Barney Rourke as Vice-President. THE ATTITUDE OF HIS FATHER ON THE SILVER QUESTION.

He Does Not Belleve That Gos. Grant Ever Made the Remark Which the Silverstees Attribute to Him-Rin Conversations with His Father About the Currency. Indianapolis, Aug. 10,-The Populists and Democrats are so frequently quoting Gen. Frant to the effect that he once said he signed the act of 1873 without knowing what it contained on the subject of silver that Attorney General Ketcham determined to run the state ment down. He was not able to find it anywhere and at last wrote to Col. Fred Grant at New York for particulars. The reply was as follows: "MY DEAR SIR: Acknowledging the receipt of your communication of Aug. 4, in which you ask me as to the truth of the statement which is, and has been for years, going the rounds, to the effect that my father, Gen. Grant, at one time said that he did not know, when he signed the Coinage act of 1873, that the silver dollar was dropped from the coinage and that if he had known the fact he would have vetoed the bill. I hasten in reply to say ment as is credited to him above "I am in receipt almost daily of letters similar to your inquiry as to whether my father made the statement attibuted to him in the little book entitled 'Coin.' I can only say that he never intimated such a statement to me.

that I frequently talked with my father upon the question of standards of currency and that

I never heard him intimate any such senti-to take the ground that it was a great misfor tune for any country to have as the basis for their circulating medium any metal that had the least element of uncertainty about it, and that the workman, when he collected his stipend at the end of the week, should be absolutely certain that there would be no question as to the value of the currency which he had to supply his needs.

"From the time that he was inaugurated President until the Resumption of Specie Payments act was passed all his public announce ments, and, so far as I know, all his private statements, were aimed to secure a stable currency to the people of the United States. The Coinage_act of 1873 does not eliminate the silver dollar from our colnage; in fact, the United States has coined since then more silver dollars than had been coined during the entire period of our national existence before, and most of these coins were made during his lifetime. It is, therefore, not probable that Gen. Grant ever said that he would have vetoed the act of 1873 if he had known that the silver dollar was dropped from the coinage, when the silver dollar was not dropped from the coinage, and I would not believe any one who said that he had heard my father make such a remark.

"Trusting that the above is a satisfactory answer to your communication, I am, my dear Mr. Attorney-General, very truly yours, "FREDERICK D. GRANT."

THE OUTLOOK IN THE WEST.

Senator Shoup Says Idaho Will Ge for McKinley—The Silver Crase on the Wane, WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.-Senator Shoup of afternoon and talked very encouragingly of the outlook in the West, especially in his own State. Senator Shoup is a silver Republican, but believes in fighting the question out in his own party. He said he believed silver would be a greater gainer through the Republisan party than through any other, and the hope for an international bimetallic system was not vain. He is quite confident that Idaho can be carried for McKinley, and could not understand how the silverites had secured their information as to the result of the recent contest there, which indicated that silver Democrats had swept the indicated that silver Democrats had swept the State. The returns, he said, were not all in on Saturday, and it was a little premature to forecast what the result was. Senator Shoup returns to idaho to-morrow evening and will enter actively into the campaign, making as good a fight as he knows how for the Republican ticket. Encotraging news from Missouri and Kanaas was received by the Republican Congressional Committee to-day. A large number of letters reached Washington this morning announcing that in some parts of Missouri there was a split in the Populist ranks, and as a result of this condition Republicans have not been so enthusiastic since early in the seventies. In some parts of Kanaas it is reported that the silver "fever" is beginning to wane as the result of the reading of Republican literature with which the State has been flooded.

MACHINE ROLLS OVER EAGAN.

New District Captains for the Twenty-sec-

Van Cott, George R. Manchester, and George R. Bidweil, was appointed to see to it that the election district associations are reofficered, so that the primaries can be properly conducted next Tuesday night.

The situation which exists in the Twenty-second district might also exist in other sections of the city if the plan of the Milholland men had been carried out as arranged at the State Club last Thursday night. A gentleman who was present at that conference told the story yesterday.

"Milholland outlined the plan to us in a speech," said he. "John proposed that all the anti-Platt members of the County Committee should resign at the meeting of that body to be held the following night.

At the same time, all election district officers who could be prevailed on to do so were to resign. This would leave the machine disorganized all over town in spots. Then we were to call open primaries for all Republicans, envolution of the convention.

Of course we would be fired through the roof of the convention hall, but we would have raised a lot of trouble for the Platt machine. Fagan was the only one to bite, and he's landed outside the breastworks. The rest of us thought the scheme too firmsy, and didn't see what good was coming out of it."

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 10 .- W. D. Bynum, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the National Democratic party, is receiving many letters from Democrats in various parts of the country regarding the selection of delegates to the Convention at Indianapolis on Sept 2. The call for the National Convention was mailed to the Chairmen and delegates in the various States to-day. The address to the public is being prepared and will probably be ready for publication about the end of the week. Secretary Wilson has named Evans Woolen of Indianapolis as his resistant.
